

How to Get to Genova

by plane:

Genova is connected to several Italian cities, as Rome, and various European cities, as London, Madrid, Munchen and Paris. Check the airport web site for more details on the flight schedule. The airport is located in the west part of the town and is connected to the downtown area by bus or taxi. The airport bus will bring you to the Principe Railway Station in about 30 minutes. The ticket costs 4 Euros and is valid for one day on the Metro and buses. From the station you can take the Metro, or another bus line (37) or walk (15-20 min.) to the downtown area where most hotels are located. A taxi ride from the airport to the downtown area costs about 20-25 Euros and takes approximately 20 min.

by train:

The two main train stations in Genova are the Principe and the Brignole stations. If your train arrives to the Principe Station see the information above under "by plane" on how to reach the downtown area. If your train arrives to Brignole you will be in walking distance from all the suggested hotels. If your hotel is close to Piazza De Ferrari or the historical center, the walk can take 10-15 minutes. Alternatively you can take the bus (line 17, 39, 40). The bus stops are in the square in front of the Station.

by car:

Genova can be reached from north with motorway A7 or A26, from west with A10 and east with A12. Use exit Genova Ovest and then follow the signs for the city center.